9600 Jacksontown Rd.

Jacksontown, Ohio 43030

PWS ID: OH 4554112

Sheet C7 is the well servicing the building. The service line from the well to the building is polyethylene and the water well was drilled in 1985. It is highly unlikely to contain lead piping, solder or fixtures.

Sheet P3 details the main water distribution located on the first floor in the southeastern part of the building, built in 1987. It is copper piping from the service line, through the softeners, and to the 10,000 gallon tank. From the tank to the pumps is ductile iron and the rest is copper. It is unlikely to contain lead piping. It is likely to contain lead solder or fixtures.

Sheet P4 details the plumbing located on the second floor of the southern part of the building. All piping is copper. The restroom plumbing was installed in 1987. The water heater and pressure tank piping was updated in 2015. It is unlikely to contain lead piping. It is likely to contain lead solder or fixtures.

Sheet P5 is an isometric plumbing diagram of the entire southern half of the building, except for what is on Sheet P3. The potable water diagram is on the upper left. All piping is copper installed in 1987, with minor repairs and updates up to the present. It is unlikely to contain lead piping. It is likely to contain lead solder or fixtures.

Sheet P6 is the plumbing detail for the first floor of the north half of the building. It was constructed in 1987 and is all copper piping. It is unlikely to contain lead piping. It is likely to contain lead solder or fixtures.

Sheet P7 details the plumbing on the second floor of the northern part of the building, built in 1987. It is all copper piping. It is unlikely to contain lead piping. It is likely to contain lead solder or fixtures.

Sheet P8 is an isometric plumbing diagram of the entire northern half of the building. The potable water diagram is on the upper left. All piping is copper installed in 1987, with minor repairs and updates up to the present. It is unlikely to contain lead piping. It is likely to contain lead solder or fixtures.

Figure 1: A schematic diagram of a two-story building with a central vertical axis. The building is divided into three main sections: a central core and two side wings. The central core is labeled 'Core' and contains a vertical shaft. The side wings are labeled 'Wing' and contain horizontal shafts. The building is shown in a cross-section view, with the ground level indicated by a horizontal line. The diagram is labeled 'Figure 1' and 'Figure 2'.
